From Fr Peter

It is a delight to finally name Fr Trinidade Monteiro as my successor, who will be moving to the parish from his current appointment as assistant priest at St Mary's Ipswich on the 17th of September. He, and our parish, were at the centre of my prayers when on the grace-filled Diocesan pilgrimage to Lourdes, from which I am recently returned.

The timing is far from ideal as I am away from the parish again in the coming weeks to take part in two theological conferences, with the privileged opportunity to share early fruits of my research in an academic setting for the first time. Do keep me in your prayers as I take this step in my studies, and I can only assure you that things are well in place for Fr Trinidade's arrival next month.

Summer Weekday Masses

Due to a number of long-standing obligations outside of the parish, Fr Peter is regrettably away for much of the coming weeks. A sheet at the back of church, as well as on the parish website, will help those hoping to attend weekday Masses make plans accordingly. Many thanks in advance for your understanding.
